COMMITTED TO YOUR SUCCESS

President's Perspective

As I write this today it is quiet around the College, other than some decorating and a faculty in-service. Many of our faculty and staff colleagues have started their Thanksgiving holiday early and are getting prepared for visits to or from family and friends. Although a slow period for some, it is pretty busy for our students as they prepare for finals and for faculty preparing for both the end of the fall semester and next semester. Please try to be understanding with one another as tensions typically begin to rise with both positive and strained emotions this time of year. We are fortunate to have such a wonderful and determined student body and an amazingly dedicated staff and faculty. While emotions continue to rage in some parts of our nation, we are able to maintain a steady focus on our efforts; and a kindness and commitment to one another. Please join me in being proud of what we have at Ozarka College, and in our part of the world.

Best of Success!

Dr. Richard Dawe

10 Years Tree City Celebration

In celebration of Melbourne's tenth year as a Tree City, and in the spirit of the changing seasons, children at Ozarka Kids Academy participated in autumn-related activities, some of which were demonstrated through their art class. The children created artwork and learned how the beauty of the leaves changing is important to our community.

"The children get so excited about the changing seasons," said Kelly Graham, director of Ozarka Kids Academy. "Artwork is a great outlet for our students to not only express this excitement, but also learn about how the seasons and the leaves change."

2016 marks the City of Melbourne's 10th year as a Tree City USA. In partnership with the Arkansas Forestry Commission, the Mayor of Melbourne and the City Tree Board coordinates annual activities including an Arbor Day Observance and Proclamation and maintains an annual community forest program to be carried out each year. The Tree City USA designation is maintained by meeting the standards set forth by the Arbor Day Foundation in collaboration with the National Association of State Foresters.

"We are so proud to be celebrating 10 years as a Tree City," said Rhonda Halbrook, Mayor of Melbourne. "This award marks 10 years and significant work by the Melbourne Tree Board, a strong partnership between city and Ozarka College staff, and help along the way from the children at the Kids Academy."

Drone Training Coming Soon

Aviation students at Ozarka College will soon have the opportunity to receive training for the operation of small, unmanned aircraft systems, also known as drones. Training will also be available to members of the community interested in legally flying their drones for civil use.

With the addition of this innovative technology, students in Ozarka's Aviation – Professional Pilot degree program will have the opportunity to earn a Remote Pilot Certificate (RPC) issued by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) as part of the degree program. They will also have an opportunity to complete a lab course focused on drone operations.

Students in the program are excited about obtaining their drone certification. Alex Pannell exclaimed, "I've always wanted to fly a drone." The new FAA regulation on unmanned aircraft makes it is easier for students to train for a drone pilot certificate while working on their pilot certificate. According to Andrew Finne, Ozarka College flight instructor, "The addition of this equipment will broaden the experience for our students and give them the opportunity to explore different job avenues that their degree can take them."

The FAA issued 14 CFR Part 107 regarding sUAS on August 29, 2016. This coursework allows students to more affordably take the next step in training after achieving their private pilot certificate. For more information about drone certification or flight training at Ozarka College, please call Nick at 870.368.7926.
